Sanitized - Approved For Release : CIA-RDP75-000

FOIAb3b

Mrs. Hucks Is Sentenced To Jail Term

Sally Hucks, former chief telephone operator at the Woodner Hotel, was sentenced to serve from 20 months to five years in jail for perjury and conspiracy to obstruct a Senate investigation of the Teamsters Union.

The sentence was handed down by District Court Judge Edward A. Tamm. Mrs. Hucks six-weeks trial ended in her conviction on April, 15.

She had been charged with conspiring to obstruct the Sente Labor Rackets Committee investigation of the Teamsters Union. She also was charged with lying to the committee in April, 1959, when she said that she did not own a mink coat. She had also been accused attempting to influence withesses who testified before a grand jury which handed down the indictment against her.

Judge Tamm today continued of an unsettled date the senencing of a co-defendant in the case, Moss Herman, a New York Teamster, who had beer convicted of the conspiracy count and of one count of obtructing the committee investigation of the Teamsters and ts president, James R. Hoffa

CPYRGHT